			Since 2010, political debate has chewed over the future of the Human Rights Act 1998, the European Convention on Human Rights and the UK's relationship with the European Court of Human Rights. This year saw our commitment to the legal protection of human rights in the ECHR and the Human Rights Act 1998 in the balance at the ballot box. The Queen's Speech saw a commitment from the Government to consider replacing the Act with a British Bill of Rights.
